The Community of Writers is an independent not-for-profit organization whose mission is to help other writers and poets. No institution funds our operations. Our costs have risen dramatically in recent years. Please give today to help us continue our work. Gifts of any size are welcomed and needed.

This summer, the Community of Writers at Squaw Valley celebrates its 50th anniversary. For the past five decades, up in the High Sierra, writers, editors, and agents have gathered for a week of workshops, individual conferences, lectures, panels, readings, nature walks, and discussions about the craft and the business of writing. Many of today's finest writers first developed their work at Squaw Valley – among them Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, Ramona Ausubel, Natalie Baszile, Aimee Bender, David Benioff, Marcelo Hernandez Castillo, Michael Chabon, Jade Chang, Jennifer Egan, Alex Espinoza, Joshua Ferris, Janet Fitch, Jamie Ford, Richard Ford, Glen David Gold, Vanessa Hua, Krys Lee, Kem Nunn, Claudia Rankine, Anne Rice, Alice Sebold, Evie Shockley, Julia Flynn Siler, Anna Deaver Smith, Cynthia D'Apris Sweeney, and Amy Tan.

Become an essential part of what we do by becoming

Becoming a sponsor enables us to usher great new literature into the national conversation. Sponsorships are designed to provide year-round visibility within our tightly knit community of writers, literary professionals, and readers, as we host events in Los Angeles, New York, San Francisco, and during the milestone anniversary workshops held during the summer of 2020 in Squaw Valley.

The events celebrating our 50-year history will be attended by literary luminaries, as well as editorial and publishing professionals who have pushed the Community of Writers to new levels of excellence, not only in teaching, but in sustaining relationships between great writers and their readers.

Sponsors further the legacy of the Community of Writers as we look to our next fifty years.

We are pleased to show our gratitude for your generosity by offering the following opportunities.
