

THE LETRAS LATINAS SCHOLARSHIP

To attend the Poetry Program of the Community of Writers

The Letras Latinas Scholarship

Established in 2019, the Letras Latinas Scholarship will be awarded to a Latinx poet (or poets) who would not otherwise be able to attend the Poetry Workshop. This scholarship was named for and was established with the support of Letras Latinas, the literary initiative at the University of Notre Dame's Institute for Latino Studies, which strives to enhance the visibility, appreciation and study of Latinx literature.

As there is only one of these scholarships available, applicants who apply for it will automatically be considered for all appropriate scholarships and financial aid, if admitted.

Amount of Scholarships: $2,000

The award includes $1,450 of the $1,450* Poetry Workshop Tuition, plus $550 to put toward accommodations or travel. (Upon acceptance, recipient will still be required to send in the $100 nonrefundable deposit by the deadline on the acceptance form.*)

To Apply:

Indicate your wish to apply for this scholarship in the "Special Scholarship" portion of the online application form.

For more information contact Brett Hall Jones at 530-470-8440 or email her at brett@communityofwriters.org.