

Rediscovering Sylvia Plath

Discussion Guide – Session 5

- If you write poems, what are some of the things you think about while you are revising a poem?
- Based on what you've seen in Plath's poems and her revisions, what are the things you think she was thinking about when revising? Do you think she had any revision principles she was following?
- What do you think Plath was revising away from?
- What do you think Plath was revising toward?
- Are there any areas in her poems where you feel that Plath's original version was better than her revision?
